About this report
Report Id	report_yhk2ozbvn76w6rnlvc6d7s5j (ee810a3d)
Balances	If the financial institution does not explicitly provide a balance for a day during the transaction period, we infer a balance by summing the day's transaction amounts along with the previous day's balance.
Transfers	We infer transfers by observing a transaction between two accounts that are part of the application. We ignore a transaction that is marked as a transfer by the bank if it does not meet this rule. Transfers are excluded from all tables in the report, except for the Transactions table. To view transactions that have been marked as transfers, go to the Transactions table and apply the transfers filter.

Duplicate transactions	A deduplication process has been applied to transactions to exclude duplicate copies that appear in more than one data source. Data sources containing duplicate transactions are clearly marked in the Data sources section. Individual transactions that have been excluded as duplicates can be inspected by expanding the relevant data source.
Money in	Salary and Government transactions are classified based on keyword matching and may not contain all relevant transactions.
Monthly totals	We calculate the monthly average for each account that is part of the application, and then sum these averages across accounts to calculate totals. This method adjusts for any differences in transaction date ranges between accounts.
